Review of duties and vestry service.

All regular monthly vestry meetings are open to any parishioners who may choose to attend. We wish to foster a spirit of openness and respect. Decisions of the vestry are decisions of the whole no matter what the vote. Duties of the vestry members to support the good of the Church. Clerk and assistant clerk have seat and voice but no vote. Similarly, the treasurer has seat and voice, but no vote. Rev. Deacon Betty Carpenter also has seat and voice but no vote. Rector as presiding officer does not have vote. He does not make or second motions.

Handout: applicable Canons of the Episcopal Diocese of Tennessee

An aside, Vestry Member Gary Sturgis is married to Music Director Kathy Sturgis. Should the vestry be in discussion about the Music Director, he will recuse himself.

Review of Canons.

The Diocese of Tennessee is considering a revision of Canons to align with National Church to allow persons 16 years or older to serve on the vestry.

Vestry has a spiritual role in leadership as well as a legal role.

Vestries call rectors, bishops appoint deacons, other priests asked by rectors with approval of bishops.

Streamlined way of managing and meeting. These are the “bones of the Body of Christ.”

Vestry functions at heart as spiritual leaders when our meetings are grounded as prayerful, informed and responsive.

Expected to be part of the parish and listen. Also to do our homework.

Treasurer Report: Kathy Solomon, See attached report

- a) Pledges for the year ending 2016 are approximately $14,000 under budget.
- b) Rental income for the parish hall was over what was expected.
- c) facilities expenses are over, utilities were about $600 more than expected; elevator maintenance was higher.
- d) Salaries and wages are pretty well on target.
- e) Debt service has been split in report to reflect principal and interest separately.

Ended year at $12,000 to the good mostly because of rental income and investment income.

Rachel brought up question of past restricted fund for clergy sabbatical. Discussion reminded that the previous reserve was used to pay for the health insurance and related costs for former rector, Joseph Ballard, Jr. Kathy and Rob will look into re-establishing this restricted fund for the future.

Method of cash management discussed by Kathy. One month's expenses run about $36,000.

Also working on this for CAC and Rector's Discretionary Fund.

Repairs and Maintenance—Vestry Fund is a fund that had fallen out of reporting. She will track this balance.

Phase II debt reduction balance is $4,568. Because of success in these collections, the need for $2000 from Vanguard Fund as authorized in December was not needed after all.

Working toward best use of funds.

Loan balance is now $403,464. We have about three budget cycles before loan balloon (fall 2019). Our rate is 3.5%, a very good rate. The interest rate in 2019 is expected to be higher.

Pete Stringer, banker and treasurer of the Diocese told Kathy he was happy as the Treasurer but not so happy as a banker that we are paying early.

CAC Budget is in great shape. Restricted fund balance is $44,491. Money in memory of Reid Ward will not be restricted within the CAC budget.

Rector's Report the Rev. Dr. Rob Lamborn (see report attached)

1. Original seminarian for internship is not going to be with us after all. There are others who may be with us, perhaps Regan Schutz and Chris Wilkerson.
2. Organ tuner discussion with Rob. Currently the volume options are mostly "boring" or "blasto." The tuner has proposed revoicing that will make some of the brilliance on the organ available at appropriate volume levels. Funding is not yet in place, and Rob has chosen to refrain from special fund raising efforts so far while we are still paying off Claiborne Hall. Not trying to create an organ project that will cost a lot of money.
3. Missional Engagement Initiative: Barbara, Dorothy and Rob working on this for the parish sesquicentennial. Will include oral history.
4. Rob's parents have moved to assisted living as of Monday, January 16. He will continue to inform vestry about needs and use of family leave.

Finance Committee Report—Tim Graham—(Report attached)

Investment policy statement and consideration of cash management.

Provides guidance for the treasurer and the vestry.

Finance Committee members are Tim, Chair, Randy Peterson, Drew Sampson and Kathy Solomon (Barbara Prunty and Rob Lamborn also members)

CAC Report—Rev. Deacon Betty Carpenter

In conjunction with St. James Midway we have started an afternoon tutoring program. First afternoon was earlier this week and was joyfully and well attended. Ann Seiters, Peggy Peterson, Carolyn O'Conner are participating as teachers.

Betty is the Safeguarding God's People administrator. She asked the new vestry members to let her know so that they can be entered into the system and sent the link to the training.

Old Business

Rachel Suarez gave update on the Mary Sears estate. She commended Lynn Stubblefield on the Comprehensive Market Analysis. On advice from Margaret Donohue and Lynn Stubblefield, the price should be reduced. Lynn reported to Claudia that insulation is blowing into the kitchen.

Rachel made the motion to change the listing price

Seconded by Dorothy

List price will be changed to $185,000. Unanimous vote.

Discussion and approval of acceptable price range for negotiating without coming back to the vestry.

New Business

Vestry assignments: Pamela with Community Council and University; Shelley with Christian Formation, Rachel as stewardship, Ken-pastoral care, Tim finance, Gary—CAC, Claudia-parish life.

Saturdays for Vestry Retreat dates will be floated by Rob.

Vestry Meetings are on calendar for the year. The December 21 meeting may be changed to a week earlier.

Meeting adjourned with prayer.

STATUS OF MARY SEARS' HOME

Several matters have occurred with regard to the Sears' home since our last Vestry meeting.

1. There were renters in the home for a few days to attend a funeral. We received $50 per night. The deceased was a parishioner of one of Amy Lamborn's STEM churches. The renters, who were relatives of the deceased, left the house in good order, and Diane cleaned up anything that needed it.
2. We received an offer for $164,000 from Lisa Orange. The Estate of Mary Sears countered to that offer at $185,000. The offer was good until January 10th, and we have not received a response. Lisa indicated to Lynn that she would not pay $175,000 for the home because someone is building next door. We regard the new build as a positive item with regard to pricing and comps.
3. The Estate has received a Consent Order to proceed with the sale of the residence, with Otey to receive the net proceeds when they can be disbursed. Otey is permitted to pay the monthly mortgage payments and incidental expenses, and the expenditures are considered a priority expense of the estate to be reimbursed to Otey in the unlikely event the estate becomes insolvent.
4. Lynn has updated and reviewed the comps, and she and Margaret agree that the price should be reduced to $185,000. The market is sluggish, and it is unlikely that we will sell the home before Spring or Summer.
